WICHITA, THURSDAY, DEC. 14, 1917.
CITY AND COUNTY NEWS.

Local Dittman started yesterday for Chicago to spend the holidays.

For the past ten days wheat has ranged from 95 cents to $1.10 per bushel.

There will be preaching in the school house next Sabbath by Rev. S. Turnbull.

Miss May Willard has gone to Newton to assist in the building of a new place, which comes off tomorrow night.

The venerable Bishop Simpson will preside over the Kansas Annual E. C. Conference, which meets in Wichita the 7th of March.

Hen. W. P. Hackney, of Winfield, was before the United States land office two days last week, as counsel in a contested case.

Mrs. Margaret, near the corner of William and Water streets, a milk cow, was killed. The driver will please leave it at this office.

Captain Tarrion's great vendue of valuable stock comes off next Saturday, a fact to be noted and remembered by our farmers and others.

Three wagon loads of wild turkeys were driven into town on Monday and offered for sale. Other wild turkeys are becoming more plentiful.

Two eminent gentlemen of Kansas will spend Saturday in this city. Their business may be politics or it may be railroad, but we'll be glad to see either.

Jack McCall, who murdered "Wild Bill" in the Black Hills, is contemplating flight from the crime charge and has been sentenced to be hung at Yankton.

The Kansas State Teachers Association holds an adjourned meeting at Topeka, December 20th. The road will carry persons to it at reduced rates.

A very complete and satisfactory report of the First Presbyterian church, of Wichita, will be found in our columns this week. It will prove interesting to everybody.

The household of J. F. Lauck was made happy by the arrival of a fair-sized young lady who had never visited before. We congratulate the Judge and his wife.

Mrs. and Mrs. M. M. acknowledge the receipt of the compliments of the Qu' Vie Club and an invitation to attend their social at the Occidental palace next Monday eve.

A firm, consisting of a couple of brothers, from New York, are contemplating the erection of gas works in Wichita, some time next season. Names and other particulars furnished in time.

The teams that under W. J. Hobson's command, transported the Sioux Indians through the Indian Territory, have returned, having met with no accident or trouble worth mentioning.

Ferrell, of the fruit, confectionery and toy store, the gentlemanly and accommodating fellow who runs the store, has several lively specials in this week. When you get ready to buy holiday goods give him a call.

The Transient Society, of which a number of our citizens are members, will give a Christmas Eve. The society is a very strong one, including the best elements of our German citizens and no doubt it will be a happy occasion.

Owing to dry weather and other causes, the Arkansas City Travelers, the farmers in that vicinity failed to sow much wheat this year. As a result, and most of what was sown is late, the prospect for a fair crop is decidedly good.

Judge B. H. Fisher is taking steps to have Josephine Demerit pardoned out of the Penitentiary. The action is most praiseworthy, and meets our hearty approval and commendation. Fisher was the prosecuting attorney. Judge Campbell, we understand, will sign the pardon. We hope Gov. Osborn will sign it.

Rev. W. E. Copeland, now of Lincoln, Nebraska, will preach, on Tuesday, the Wednesday evening at the M. E. Church. He addressed large audiences at Topeka and Joplin on Sunday and Monday. Mr. C. is known to many of our citizens, is eloquent and interesting speaker.

The old folks are working away with sure success. They cannot and will not fail. Their selections were made by a committee who have been in the old folks business before, and we understand that they do not propose to offer it to the public until they are thoroughly prepared.

The elderly bridge over the Big river is in a dangerous condition, a part of the railing is pushed loose. Somebody, with their team will tumble off from that bridge some time these days and the consequence will be better known after the case goes through the courts.

They have been engaged for some time they live up on the Avenue; they were looking over the Kansas city evening, "Love, Rev. W. E. Copeland, on Tuesday, the Wednesday evening at the M. E. Church. He addressed large audiences at Topeka and Joplin on Sunday and Monday. Mr. C. is known to many of our citizens, is eloquent and interesting speaker.

The Topeka, Leavenworth and Lawrence papers, with characteristic complacency, are mutually congratulating each other over the possession of the only musical societies worthy of note in the State. They are, we believe, Wichita not only boasts such an organization, but claims talent of a high order as can be found in the State.

W. C. Woodman received a heavy collar, document covered with red tape and big seals, from Samuel J. Tilden, after morning sessions with the attorney general, and he has simply been making time for his work and proposes to have something to say himself with reference to the distribution of patronage, we suppose. It strikes us that he might have held up till the fourth of March, but he didn't.

Capt. John H. Folks, editor of the Sumner County Press, spent the day in the city. He had been attending a meeting of the Regent of the State Agricultural College, of which he is a member. Captain says that the regent of Sumner County is a very capable man with the solidity and regularity of a line of battle—by sections and ranges—and that two years more will see Sumner completely filled. To all of which we most heartily assent.

We are glad to chronicle the marriage of Mr. Andrew Hanson, of this city, to Miss Eliza Fanning, of Topeka. Mr. Hanson is one of the thoroughgoing and industrious young men of our valley. To him must be given the credit for the handsomely arranged grounds of J. F. Mead, which are now a beautiful and landscaped garden. We wish the bride and groom lots of happiness.

The best opening in the State of Kansas, if not the best, for a small family and machine shop, is at Wichita. A capacity for small castings, with a couple of lathe and a planer, together with ordinary hand work, would meet the demand at present, probably, but an establishment of much larger proportions, backed by capital, would prove a paying investment.

Wichita is only about one hundred miles from the mouth of the Kaw river, and yet, thanks to the late cold snap which closed the rivers and lakes of the north and formed one foot thick at Lawrence, Topeka and Kansas City, the Little Arkansas barely afforded good skating, while the purky water of the Big river was still exposed to the sunlight. The storm in the northwestern States proved terrible.

On Saturday, December 16, 1917, I will sell to the highest bidder, at the Wichita State Stables, corner of Waco and Central Avenues, two pair of fine mare mules, Henry, by Drennon, a fine, combined harness and saddle horse perfectly good and gentle, suitable for a lady to ride or driver. Wichita, Kansas, December 14, 1917.

Wm. T. Watson, Auctioneer.

Hon. John Guthrie, who came to very near carrying off the gubernatorial prize in the last State Convention, spent one day in Wichita last week. John is the same whole-souled genial man that he ever was—just as happy and philosophical as though he had won the great contest instead of lost. He has hosts of admirers all over the State, and we are glad to have him come and see us.

The First Presbyterian Church of Wichita.

The Presbyterian church of our city held its annual meeting for the election of officers, and presentation of annual reports, on last Wednesday evening. The audience was unusually large for the occasion, being composed of the members of the church and friends of the cause. The pastor, Rev. J. P. Hansen, presided. The first report presented was that of the society, by the secretary, D. A. Mitchell. The report shows that the society was first incorporated in 1870, and that new articles of incorporation were filed with the Secretary of State during the year past, giving the society more power in extending and perpetuating its objects of usefulness. The society is free from debt and owns property of an estimated value of $7,000, which includes the parsonage and the church edifice in its present unimproved condition.

The pastor's report shows that during the year there were received, on profession of faith, 12 new members.
